Prosecutor Finds New Proof In Sheatsley Murder Case

Pastor-Husband Stays to Suicide Theory — Bloodstains Found.

"RABBIT BLOOD"

Will Exhume Body For Further Examination, Plan of Franklin County Authorities.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov 25. (AP) —The possibility that the body of Mrs. C. V. Sheatsley might be exhumed was indicated here today following a conference late last night between county authorities and Edwin Abbott, undertaker, who removed Mrs. Sheatsley's remains from the endurance. Abbott told the county prosecutor that a portion of Mrs. Sheatsley's skull was broken.

It was indicated, however that the skull might have been broken by the intense heat of the furnace or the possibility that the victim was either murdered and cast into the furnace or committed suicide and the body was placed in the furnace by some one who was seeking to cover the act, was being investigated today.

Rev. Sheatsley said today that blood spots found in various parts of the house, yesterday was probably rabbit blood as he had shot several on Saturday preceeding the tragedy.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 25. (AP) —Evidence tending to show that Mrs. Addie Sheatsley, who was found practically cremated in the furnace of the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church parsonage in Bexley, a week ago, was murdered, was unearthed today in a minute search of the house by investigating officials, according to a statement tonight by County Prosecutor John R. King.

Dark stains which may be spots of human blood, found on a table covering stuffed away in an upstairs closet, on a pair of blue trousers, on a floor rug, on the asbestos covering of a heat conduit directly above the furnace door and in other places, Prosecutor King said, proves to him, with other evidence he has, that Mrs. Sheatsley was a victim of murder and that her body was cast into the furnace in an effort to hide al trace of the crime.

The only other possible theory which Prosecutor King has in mind is that she might have committed suicide and her body placed in the furnace by some person who did not want it to become known that she had taken her life, he said tonight.

Other discoveries termed by the prosecutor as important included the finding by Marshall David Shaddrack of an upturned fruit jar lid containing about half an ounce of red fluid, which Chemist C. F. Long said closely resembles human blood. Bits of tissue, which might have been scraped from the body of a human, were found on a step of the cellar stairway.

Mrs. Sheatsley appeared in a normal frame of mind Monday noon, Mrs. Gladys Redelphs, wife of a neighboring pastor, told County Prosecutor King to day. Mrs. Redelphs visited Mrs. Sheatsley shortly before her death going to the Sheatsley home to deliver Christmas cards, she said.

TO HOLD ROUSING OLD PEP MEETING

Fine Program Has Been Arranged So Come Out and Help Cheer the Boys to a Win.

The High School and every citizen of Middlesboro who is interested in the Thanksgiving game will be at the meeting to-night at 7.30. A program has been arranged and many of the details of the rooting will be provided for. Copies of the songs will be given the crowd and they will be taught how to sing them.

If you are interested in giving our boys the best effect of side line rooting you should be present tonight. The game will largely depend on what we do tonight.

LOFTY SPIRES TO EXPRESS ACHIEVEMENT

Cost of Cathedral is Estimated to be $10,000,000.

HAVE 52 FLOORS

"The Cathedral of Learning" is to be Greatest Structure Ever Erected by a Community to its Own Living Will.

PITTSBURGH, Pa Nov. 24 (AP)—A building of great height "to express the spirit of Pittsburgh achievement with such force and such grasp of its sublimity that the whole world will understand" is the underlying idea of the University of Pittsburgh's 52 story "Cathedral of Learning" to be erected at the entrance to Schenley Park and near the site of the present facilities of the institution. The cathedral will cost $10,000,000

Chancellor J. C. Bowman expressed this idea as the principal purpose of the trustees in planning this radical departure in university building construction, pointing out that most educational buildings were long and low, modeled after the structures of ancient Greece and Rome. They suggest calmness and repose, he said, whereas the building planned for Pittsburgh will suggest achievement and ambition for further achievement. Repose, he said is a reward for labor performed and is not the atmosphere in which youth should prepare for the struggle of life.

"The Cathedral of Learning," Chanlor Bowman said, "is to be the greatest structure ever erected by

A Mystery of the North Woods

A sheriff, a coroner and two Indian guides were, on last reports, ploughing their way through the north woods to a lonely cabin (seen below), 70 miles from Warrod, Minn., the nearest railway town, to investigate the murder of Mrs. Dean Wheeler (upper right). Mrs. Wheeler, bride of a few weeks, and her husband had gone into the wilderness to spend the winter. But their adventure soon turned to tragedy. First word of the slaying was brought to Warrond by two hunters. Her husband meanwhile stood guard over her body. When she entered the woods, Mrs. Wheeler, reputed to have been quite wealthy, was wearing valuable jewelry and carrying $1,000, it is said.

OAKLAND MINE RESUMES WORK ON BIG SCALE

Local Union Signs a Contract to Work for 1917 Wage.

MANY GO TO PIT

Members of the Local Union Acted Without Authority of the District Union Officials.

GREENVILLE, Nov. 25 (AP)—Oakland mine began operations today on an enlarged scale under contract with members of the local union of the United Mine Workers of America at 1917 wage scales.

Today an increased number of workmen went into the pit and a larger crew is expected tomorrow. Work to get the mine into shape and resume operations have been under way for several days.

No animosity or untoward event happened at the mine the manager said. Members of the local union acted without authority from the district officials. Operators at the Luzerne mine of the Ducan Coal company are expected to start within several days

TO HAVE PARADE MARCH FOURTH

President Prefers Modest Ceremonial—First Lady and Husband Veto Ball.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. (AP) —An old-time inaugural parade is still among the possibilities on next March 4th. President Coolidge wants the inauguration to follow the general modest lines of the Harding inaugural ceremonies but will not object to a more elaborate parade.

The question of reviving the inaugural ball, however, was vetoed by President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The New Cabinet Will Probably Accede to British Demands.

TROOPS IN CAIRO

No Outward Signs of Unusual Development In Egyptian Capital—London Hopes For Settlement.

ADJOURNED

Cairo, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Egyptian parliament was adjourned today by royal degree until Christmas.

LONDON, Nov. 25. (AP)—The British government intends to withhold further action in Egypt until the new cabinet there reconsiders the British demands only a part of which the Zagloul ministery agreed to. An official communication from Egypt is expected while British officials here hope that the new Ziwar Pasha will agree to the demands of the British government, which will then consider the incident of the Sirdar's assassination closed, insofar as diplomatic negotiations are concerned.

The new Egyptian cabinet is expected to assume a broader outlook, than that held by the resigning ministery.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 25. (AP)— An improved atmosphere prevailed in Cairo today following yesterday's sensational political developments, which resulted in the resignation of the Zagloul ministery. The British troops paraded the streets again today, but otherwise there were few outward signs of unusual development.

The new cabinet program goes to parliament this evening it being understood that Ziwar, will ask for the immediate dissolution of parliament if a vote of confidence is withheld.

LONDON, Nov. 25. (AP)—A solution of the Egyptian trouble, which appeared obvious from the outset provided an alternative government to that of Premier Zagloul Pasha could be found, which many persons doubted owing to the tremendous hold Zagloul has upon his people and parliament, now seems in sight.

Having complied with those of the British demands in connection of Major General Sir Lee Oliver Stack, the Sirdar which his government considered justifiable of satisfaction for the murder, while rejecting those he regarded, as less justifiable, Zagloul has resigned as he himself explained it, to avoid exposing his country to further dangers arising from this deplorable crime.

Probable Settlement

This is taken to mean that the new Egyptian cabinet will be in a position to yield still further to the British demands without suffering loss of prestige, which similar action on the part of Zagloul would have entailed. Thus far the situation has sensibly eased and the British government is now disposed to hold its hand for further developments.

Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, British high commissioner in Egypt, however, continued to apply firm pressure on the Egyptian government up to the last minutes. The big indemnity—$500,000 pounds sterling—was paid ready, but payment being accompanied by another Egyptian note of protest against the British political demands. Viscount Allenby immediately countered by informing Zagloul Pasha that British troops would occupy the customs port of Alexandria which later was done.

ST. LOUIS CLUBS SUFFER LOSSES

Browns and Cardinals are Only Major League Clubs That Have Not Won a Pennant.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP) — The two St. Louis clubs are in a class by themselves, in one respect at least. They are the only clubs of the two major baseball leagues that have not won a pennant in what is generally terme dmodern baseball That period usually is counted from 1900, when the American League entered into competition with the National.

Notwithstanding the consistent failure of the Cardinals and the Browns to finish in front there has been a wide distribution of pennants in the two circuits, in fact during the last 15 years every one of the other 14 teams in both leagues has won at least one championship.

The general distribution of pennants, in which the Browns and Cardinals have been passed by, and may be dated from 1909 In that year the Pittsburgh Nationals and Detroit Tigers won their last pennants and in the world's series the Pirates were returned winners, it being the third straight defeat in the blue ribbon event of the diamond for the Tigers.

Since that year the Giants have won eight pennants in the National League; Brooklyn and Chicago, two each; Boston, Philadelphia and Cincinnati, one each.

Since Detroit won its American League flag in 1909 the championship of the circuit has gone to Philadelphia and Boston four times each; New York, three; Chicago, two; Cleveland and Washington, one each.

In the years intervening between Detroit's failure in the world's series of 1909 and Washington's victory over the Giants last month, American League champions have won the highest honores eleven times, Red Sox four; Athletics, three; White Sox, Indians, Yankees one each, while National League pennant winners have captured only four world's titles. Boston one Cincinnati on and Giants two.

MRS. HARDING IS LAID TO LAST REST

Last Rites for the Widow of Warren G. Harding Held at Marion Yesterday.

MARION, O., Nov. 25. (AP)— Under a leaden November sky, Florence Kling Harding was laid to eternal rest in Marion cemetery yesterday beside the mortal remains of her husband whom she helped to rise from country editor to the presidency of the United States.

Grouped around the gray vault, with heads bared to the chill wind that carried a flurry of snowflakes, hundreds paid a last tribute to the widow of Warren G Harding, 29th chief executive of the nation

Inside the small vault, the few relatives and the friends who were with her in the last days of her life, listened to the brief services that preceded the final commitment of her body.

The casket, a veritable mass of flowers, was carried into the narrow room The Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, read the regular burial service of his church. The Rev George M. Landis, who had been President Harding's pastor, pronounced the benediction, and hardly had his words ceased when softly on the air swelled the refrain of "The End of a Perfect Day," from two score male throats

The brazen tones of bugles sounded taps rung through the cemetery and as the final notes ended, the vault doors were gently closed and the silent crowd turned away.

Mrs. Harding's body will rest beside that of her husband in the receiving vault at the cemetery until the proposed Harding memorial that will be erected on a high bit of ground outside the city limits is completed when they both will be moved there.

Rooters, Up On Your Toes And Give Rousing Cheers

Morale of the Football Team is Decided by its Supporters.

ELEVEN TRUE MEN

Boys are Ready to Give Their Best on Thursday and All Rooters Should Stand by Through Victory or Defeat.

This has nothing to do with the gameness of any member of our football team. It is written hoping that it will cause the crowd to search its own 'inards" to see if it has any.

A football team's morale is decided more by its rooters than any other one thing. On Thursday, when we come out to see our team contend with Pineville, the team will be looking for something as well as the crowd The crowd will look for thrills in the way of spectacular plays. They will applaud if one of our men breaks through and runs the length of the field for a touchdown. They will applaud for every unusual thing that happens if the luck breaks for their side.

We are going out to see a game of skill matched by skill. We are not going to see a bull fight. We are not going to see a prize fight. We are not going to see eleven of our boys go in to see what havoc they can do to eleven other young men from a neighboring city. These young men are all intelligent, about the same age, filled with about the same ideals, many of whom meet in friendly social ways off the field. While there is keen rivalry and every man will do his best they are just boys after all. They may cuss, cry or pray. They may be heroes for one moment and the next pull a "perfect ivory." But all this is for them to determine. They have been coached, they have their instructions before beginning.

What about you, Mr. Rooter? Have you the heroic soul that will root, it matters not how the for-

U. S. Teachers Have Fine Quiz Method

PARIS, Nov. 25. (AP)—The psychology asking school children questions is a point on which the American teachers take issue with most French instructors

"Jean," says the French teacher in most schools, "Stand up!" Then the question is asked.

In American schools the process is reversed. The question is put fully, then some pupil is asked to answer it.

"The difference is," said a recent visitor to Paris lycees, "that in the French school the whole class knows instantly that 'Jean" is the one to answer and the rest have no need to do any hard thinking.

"In the American school every one in the class is compelled to search his wits for an answer because he or she may be called upon to rise. In that way the whole class answers the question, or tries to, although only one recites.'

Soviet's Budget Exceeds Income

MOSCOW, Nov. 25. (AP)— Soviet Russia's budget for the coming year amounts to $1,500,000,000, but its income from state industry and trade is only $5,000,000. During the first eight months of this year only $3,500,000 of this sum was realized, of which industry contributed a profit of $2,100,000, and trade about $1,400,000.

These revenues, small as they are, show a slight improvement over those of last year and are derived principally from the export of grain and the production of sugar and oil.

English Language To Undergo Change

LONDON, Nov. 25.—(AP).—English as it will be spoken 500 years from now will not have much in common with the present day abuses of the language, according to Daniel Jones, professor of phnoetics at the University of London In the faraway future generation, Scotchmen will talk like Englishmen, while the general tongue of the highly cultured people will be 'super-cockney with a little Scotch accent."

Professor Jones's idea is that the language of today was cockney to Shakespeare, and that the speech of southern England now is getting nearer to cockney. In some places the cockney has already the upper hand and there is a decided trend in others to adopt the accent in words which contain the letter 'a" The wide difference in the dialect of the English provinces accelerates this tendency the professor says, as the various dialects weaken the common language and destroy its roots afetr a few years.

Within 500 years, Professor Jones predicts, the Gaelic language will have nearly disappeared and the native Irish (Erse) will be heard no more. Of this group of languages only Welsh will remain.

TRAVEL PICKS UP

Receive Many Letters Commending Work From Business Men of Both Lexington and Middlesboro.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 25.— That the work of Asheville, the interest of Mayor Cathey and others are appreciated in assisting the people of Kentucky in getting an open road through the state is indicated in the following letters from Motch Brothers, Middlesboro, and Kittrel Calloway and Webb of Lexington, addressed Mayor Cathey and the local motor club.

W. D. Motch, of Motch Bros., Ford dealers in Middlesboro, writes:

"This is to thank you and the City of Asheville for your interest in helping to get a road open across Kentucky for the travel from the middle west that goes to your section in the fall and into Florida in the winter. The work of your Asheville and western North Carolina Motor club has made this road possible at least three years ahead of a state program, or when the most optimistic thought such a through highway possible. Mr. Buckner has told us of your interest, and we want you to know we greatly appreciate your work and co-operation.

The highway signs that have been placed to Detroit are already beginning to show results in increased travel and very favorable mention by the tourists. We consider this sign work extremely valuable in developing travel by giving a feeling of security, safety and comfort by knowing you are on the right road and going in the right direction. I am sending a copy of this to your Kiwanis club there, as it was our Kiwanis club

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT some cities put off until tomorrow the things that should be done today, because they are so busy today doing the things they should have done yesterday.

THAT it is not too late to correct that fault.

THAT now is the time to get on the road to progress.

THAT if they don't they will soon be left behind in the march of trade and development.

THAT to create, to build, to accomplish is what should be in the hearts of every citizen.

THAT it should not be fortune alone for themselves that they work for, but they should work for that satisfaction that is only obtained by accomplishing something truly great that will benefit the whole community.

THAT to gain this, they should fight and fight valiantly until it is obtained.

THAT with their hearts aflame with love and pride in the home city, the results they can secure will be more than could be dreamed of by the most vivid imagination of the best booster.

If the citizens have any fears about their home city growing backward, they should calm their fears and think it over. It will be up to them as to how their city will go. Co-operate and you will go ahead, divided, you go back. It's up to the citizens to select the road they want to take. Take the right way and go ahead.

Back to Orphanage

This little two-month-old youngster does not appear the least bit worried over his sudden drop from New York society back to the orphanage from which he had been taken. He is back in Willows, a Kansas City (Mo.) institution, as a result of a New York court's order. The baby is the one Mrs. Lydia Marks maintained was hers in order to collect in the neighborhood of $100,000 from her former husband, Arthur Hudson Marks, New York millionaire. The child seen here with his nurse, as awaiting another adoption.

Corbin High Beaten By Baptist School

BARBOURVILLE, Nov. 25—The Corbin high eleven met the eleven of the Southeast Kentucky Baptist school, Friday on the field of the latter. The rain poured steadily all during the game, which caused both teams to fight harder than usual.

The Barbourville boys began to exercise their skill in the beginning of the first quarter by making line plunges for 10 15 yards at a plunge which resulted in two touch downs during the first quarter.

The people who waited in the rain were entertained by a touchdown each of the following three-quarters, the fourth quarter ending with a score of 32-0 in favor of S. K. B. S.

The defeat was due to the fact that out of the "Meekly Squad of Kittens" which played Corbin the first game of the season, has grown a "Flock of Untamed Bearcats."

Those scoring were:

G. Tye—2 touchdowns; 1 point.
K. Marsee, 2 touchdowns, 1 point.
B. Marsee, 1 touchdown.
L. Hughes, 1 point.

TURKEY KING IN NEW YORK

RICHMOND, Ky., Nov. 24.—T. H. Gordon, Madison county's turkey king left Thursday afternoon for New York where he had shipped four carloads of dressed turkeys for the eastern markets from this county. In addition to these he also shipped to New York a large purchase which he made in Winchester and all of the turkeys pooled in Bourbon county. The shipment from Bourbon county included 240 raised by one woman. This lot is said to be the finest bunch ever raised in Kentucky. Mr. Gordon is the only turkey dealer in the county who shipped his turkeys dressed. All four carloads which left Madison county were dressed turkeys. Mr. Gordon stated before leaving that the operators are looking for a low market. He will however, be on hand to lok after the turkeys while he has shipped.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT,
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON—The approaching departure of Jules Jusserand as Ambassador from France has revived reminiscences of the old days when the strenuous T. R. and the doughty French diplomat set new high marks for athletic activity in the Washington official set.

Probably no other foreign diplomat ever was on such intimate terms with an American president as Jusserand was with Roosevelt.

They played tennis together on the White, House courts. They spent hours on long cross-country hikes. Between times they talked natural history, literature and the comparative merits of boxing versus fencing.

Jusserand was always bobbing up around the White House, and always was welcome. He had the run of the place. Some said he had a White House latchkey.

ONE of the stories recalled of the Roosevelt-Jusserand exploits is of a cross-country hike they took on a sweltering July day. They had been hitting it up with characteristic Roosevelt vigor, up hill and down dale, when they came to a stream winding down toward the Potomac at a point where there seemed to be a good swimming hole.

"Ah! The Old Swimming Hole" Roosevelt exclaimed. "How about a dip?"

No sooner said than done. With the abandon of three schoolboys playing hookey, Roosevelt, Jusserand and Archibald Butt, who was the third member of the expedition, shed their hiking duds.

Roosevelt and Butt plunged in in good American fashion, but Jusserand waded in rather cautiously. He had got in about knee deep when T. R. noticed that he was still wearing his gloves—nice black ones, like an undertaker's.

"What's the idea?" Roosevelt asked. "Why the gloves?"

"Jussy" shrugged his shoulders and turned up his palms in a deprecatory French gesture.

"Who knows; there might, perhaps, some ladies come by," he said.

ON another one of these hikes Henry Lodge was a participant. Lodge wasn't the ardent athlete that T. R. and Jusserand were, and the fast pace set by the president and the ambassador soon had him winded. They had reached a stretch of rough uphill going when Lodge called a halt.

"Theodore, Theodore," he called, panting, breathless. "Slow up a bit. You must think I'm a damned kangaroo."

THE intimate palship between Roosevelt and Jusserand at this period is said to have caused a change in the British ambassador to Washington.

Sir Mortimer Durand, Great Britain's envoy, never achieved any personal relationship with the president. Their contacts were always formal. He was always "Mr Ambassador" to T. R and Teddy was "Mr President" to him.

Sir James Bryce, afterward Lord Bryce, was sent over to replace Sir Mortimer As a writer and historian, familiar with American affairs and institutions, Bryce fitted much better into the Roosevelt scheme of things.

They found themselves on common ground in historical and literary discussions. Also, Bryce chimed in on some of the president's rough cross country hikes. But no other diplomat ever achieved the camaraderie with Roosevelt that was held by Jusserand.

His departure marks the passing of the last of the "strenuous brotherhood" which flourished at the capital in the days of the "big stick," the "Alsmas Club" and the reign of Roosevelt.

Prussian Teachers Are Out of Work

BERLIN, Nov. 25. (AP).—Owing to the rigidly enforced economy measures of the government there are 28,000 graduated teachers in Prussia without positions and only slight chance of any obtaining work for which they have fitted themselves.

Old-Time Cough Remedy—Pine Tar and Honey—Still Best

According to specialists, there is really nothing better or quicker-acting for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup and throat irritation than good old pine tar and honey. No matter whether the cough is dry and tight, or loose with much mucus, the pine tar quickly aids in the removal of the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, also relieving soreness, while the honey both soothes irritation and gives a pleasant taste.

The original compound, which has been used in thousands of families for many years, is Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. It has had many imitators, but still remains the best, as it is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in giving quick relief. It contains absolutely no narcotics or harmful drugs, so can be given to young and old alike. If you want the best, be sure you get the original Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey and no other. Only 25c. at any good druggists.

Radio To Assist In Overflow Meetings

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—An open air altar and pulpit equipped with loud speakers is being erected just outside Westminster Cathedral, so that thousands of persons participating in processions and overflow meetings will be able to hear the preachers' ordinary voice.

Cardinal Bourne, making this announcement at the annual meeting of the Catholic Evidence Guild, said the cathedral was not sufficient on certain occasions of the year and that the whole of the land around the cathedral would be levelled and cleared to provide for overflow meetings.

GOOD CLUB WORK TO BE REWARDED

Nine Boys and Girls, Club Members Will Attend the Live Stock Exposition.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 25.—(AP).—Nine boys and girls, picked from 20,000 club members in Kentucky, will attend the International Live Stock Exposition in Chicago Nov. 30, Dec. 6, as a reward for their interest in better farming and home-making practices as shown in their club work, T. R. Bryant, assistant director of the College of Agriculture Extension service, said today.

The state champion junior stock judging team, composed of Hubert Duvall, William Webster, Clarence Kindall and W. S. Baker, and their coach, county agent John C. Brown will go from Owen county. The Louisville Courier-Journal gave the boys $80 and the State Fair Board $33 toward paying their way to Chicago.

The boys and a girl, who showed the best litters at the state club swine show in Louisville in September, will receive free trips to the International Show. They are: George M. Wilson, Breckinridge county, whose way will be paid by the Louisville Cement Company; James N. Clark, Bourbon county, who won a free trip offered by the Kentucky Farm Feed Company, Jefferson county, and Virginia Sullinger, Crittenden county, whose expenses will be paid by Glen View Farm, Jefferson county.

Three lamb club boys will receive free trips as follows: Walter Brown, Larue county, whose way will be paid by B. F. Avery & sons, Louisville; William Carrier, Garrard county, who won a trip offered by the Belknap Hardware & Manufacturing Company of Louisville, and Byron Cull, Owen county, whose expenses will be paid by the Charles R. Long, Jr., Company of Louisville.

Montgomery Ward & Company will pay the way of Ruth Virginia Howard, Henderson county, state champion clothing club girl, and the Hazel-Atlas Glass Company, the way of Willie B. Howard, Calloway county, the state champion canning club girl.

The Owen county judging team and the state clothing and canning champions will enter judging contests. In addition to attending the International show and also a national boys' and girls' club congress, the junior farmers and homemakers will visit places of interest in Chicago.

American Legion to Aid Orphans

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 25. An endowment fund of $5,000,000 for orphaned children of the World War and indigent and disabled former service men will be sought in a nation-wide campaign to be launched soon by the American Legion, it was announced at national headquarters here. President Coolidge has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the Legion's national committee to raise the fund, James A. Drain, National Commander of the Legion announced.

Decision to raise the fund was made at a meeting of the Legion's national finance committee upon recommendation of National Commander James A. Drain. The endowment fund program was given authorization by the sixth national convention of the Legion at St. Paul pending approval of details by the finance committee, including Wilder Metcalf, Topeka, aKnsas, chairman; John R. McQuigg, Cleveland, O., and Edgar B. Dunlap, of Gainsville, Ga.

The urgent need of raising the fund immediately was pointed out by Mark T. McKee, Detroit, Mich., a member of the Legion's child welfare committee. He declared that the existing facilities of the Legion for caring for the orphaned and helpless children of former service men who were either killed or died as a result of their war service, are overcrowded. The Legion has a children's billet at Otter Lake in Michigan, under operation and one at Independence, Kansas, under construction.

"There are 5,000 children of dead World War veterans who need care right now," Mr. McKee said, "out of a total of 35,000 war waifs.

"These are Veterans Bureau figures. Just the other day a man left four children at the Veterans Bureau, children of a deceased war veteran, with a request that they be cared for. The bureau turned the children over to us. Somehow we will provide for them, yet our present facilities will stand for no expansion."

National Commander Drain declared, "We must look to home and see the great underlying misery caused by the great conflict. We must help the disabled man. He is our first obligation and he needs us now. The American Legion must keep faith with its fallen comrades by seeing that the helpless children are not deprived of the opportunities that are rightfully theirs, because their fathers were killed fighting for their country. 'Bind up the wounds of the disabled and care for the widows and orphans' must be our slogan."

Mr. Metcalf in voicing his approval said: "Our first and greatest duty is properly to care for the disabled man until he is able to care for himself, and it is also the time to save the children of deceased veterans from being punished because their fathers gave their lives for this country. These boys and girls deserve every chance their own fathers would have given them, and the Legion as foster-parent must give them that chance."

"We are pledged to care for the disabled and for the widows and orphans of those who are gone," said Mr. McQuigg. "Now is the time to [illegible] those promises."

LEAGUE ACTIVITIES GO ON

GENEVA, Nov. 25.—(AP).—So regularly are governments required to send delegates to Geneva for League of Nations meetings—assembly, council, or special commissions—that many of them have purchased houses or have leased apartments. These are for the purpose of housing delegates and of serving as offices. Hardly a week now passes but what some meeting of importance is scheduled for Geneva.

RIFLE RANGE TO BE ESTABLISHED

Appoint Committee to Secure the Lumber and Set Up Range by Wednesday.

The Middlesboro Rifle Club met last night in the office of the Playground and Recreation Association. Many came out for this meeting and much was accomplished. Mr. Welshimer and Mr. Archer made reports on the finding of a suitable ground to be used for a shooting range. It was finally decided to use one, an ideal location, in the East End. A committee was appointed to get the lumber and set up the range which was to be ready for a preliminary shoot this Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 p. m. The Rifle Club invites all men and women to join in this shoot at that time.

The Club unanimously agreed to affiliate itself with the National Rifle Association. The National Rifle Association is sponsored by the United States Government which is interested in maintaining marksmanship amongest its citizens. Membership in the Association has its distinct advantages—to each Club so affiliated is issued the following:—

2—U. S. rifles, cal 30 and accessories.
2—rifles, cal 22 and accessories.
1—outdoor target carrier.
2—indoor target carriers.
1—disc, marking and staff, middle range.
1—disc, marking and staff, short range.

This is a splendid opportunity for those interested in keeping up their marksmanship, affording a safe place to practise and to enter matches which would be otherwise closed to them.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Passed By Loyal Men's Class of First Christian Church

Inasmuch as it has pleased our Holy Father to remove from us one of our esteemed members, as well as one of His most useful servants, we take this means of expressing our sorrow and to say how sincerely we grieve at his going away.

W. L. Buchanan, a Charter member of the Class, and one of its tireless workers, fell asleep from which he did not wake, early Saturday morning, November 15th, 1924. We, his co-workers sympathize and grieve with his loved ones and express ourselves in the following resolution:

First: Be it Resolved, that the Class has suffered a loss and we have a vacancy that can not be filled:

Second; That the Church has lost an Elder, as well as one of its wisest counsellors whose character combined the most mature, as well as the purest Christian graces;

Third: That the community as well as the City has lost one of its best citizens.

Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family; a copy spread on the permanent records of our Class, and also a copy be sent to the papers of the City to be printed.

(Signed)
B. J. BETHURUM, teacher.
A. B. REEVES, pastor,
R. W. COOKE, Secretary.

BLACKSTONE SHOW HERE WEDNESDAY

Great Blackstone Himself Will Head the Organization to Appear Here.

The Blackstone Show of Wonders is scheduled to appear at the Manring Theatre on Wednesday night, November 26th. The great Blackstone himself will head the organization which is the largest in point of paraphernalia and personnel in the world. Two baggage cars are required to transport the wealth of intricate and delicate equipment necessary to the proper presentation of Blackstone's many mystifying and opulent illusions. There are over a score of handsome young women and assistant conjurers aiding Blackstone in his necromatic endeavors.

For this first time in this city Blackstone will offer his latest creation Oriental Nights," a prodigious pageant of the voluptuous east. In this feature Blackstone uses a number of beautiful girls surrounded by the lavish settings of the Orient and introduces the enchanted camel, the phantom stallion, the Calyph of Bagdad. It culminates in the most sensational illusion ever devised by the human brain.

Blackstone has been playing the so-called legitimate theatres for the past two seasons charging two dollars for the choice seats. As Messrs. Woolworth and Ford have demonstrated volume is the talisman of success, hence Blackstone is providing the same attraction in the theatres where lesser prices prevail but where the performances are more numerous. There will, therefore, be no advance in the regular scale of house prices or deviation from its fixed policy during the Blackstone stay.

CHRISTMAS JOY

The key that unlocks the door of affection and esteem is the Christmas gift. Not the gorgeous bauble carelessly purchased by some rich person, but the little sensible, useful, thoughtful gift given by the millions of us—the simple present made by you and me along with which goes our hearts warmed by the spirit of Christmas joy.

This year hundreds of people in our city have been looking forward with pleasant anticipation to the day when they can show their affection and love, for throughout the past year they have been carrying their passbook to the Christmas Club window in the Citizens Bank & Trust Co., and making deposits which have steadily increased and which will furnish the ready cash so necessary at Christmas time.

These fortunate ones can look upon the past year with satisfaction, for they planned and carried out successfully the acquiring of Christmas money. It is pleasant to realize that it was done with a little sacrifice each week and in an unselfish spirit.

THE LAST STRAW

Gwendolyn was saying out night to her young man. As usual the process was long drawn out. The family usually knew better than to interfere but on this occasion one of the upstairs windows was suddenly thrown open and a weary voice addressed to the occupant of the porch said:

"My dear sir, I have no objection to your coming here and sitting up half the night with my daughter, nor even to your standing a couple of hours on the doorstep while saying good night, but out of consideration of the rest of the family ,won't you kindly take your elbow of the electric bell.

Sees Necessity of Educational Fund

FRANKFORT, Ky. Nov. 25.—Although the state school fund apportioned to the different counties each year is about four and one-half million dollars, none of it can be apportioned ot the different counties of the state on the basis of needs and necessities, McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction, declared today in a statement on the state's educational needs. He said:

"The inequalities in educational opportunities in Kentucky are so evident that the need of a special fund for educational purposes to be distributed by the State Board of Education to the various communities of the state on the basis of necessity, and for the purpose of equalizing educational opportunities, forces itself as a rational conclusion upon the thinking mind without the necessity for argument."

An educated public sentiment" that will willingly bear the costs necessary for a successful administration of our system of education" is needed he added.

Rooters, Up On Your Toes and Give Rousing Cheers

tunes of war—the break of the game goes. Some can root if their side is winning. But let them begin to loose and the Yellow Dog Side Line quits, grows perfectly dumb. All you can bear is a few cheap sports that can ill afford to lose the few dollars that they were foolish enough to bet, begin to rag the home team.

Thanksgiving crowd is going to see the best football game that they have ever seen played. Pineville has a strong offense and a greater defense. They have won more games than Middlesboro this year. But Middlesboro has learned more football in the games that they have lost than they could have possibly learned in any other way. If we want to see Middlesboro do her best and put the pep and skill into the game that they have been taught, let's root. Root from the time the team comes within hearing until the last whistle blows. Root whether we are winning or loosing. Root everybody! Root loud! Root long! Root because the finest thing about the game is not always the biggest score, but the skill of heart, head and soul that the players and also the side lines can put into it.

LOFTY SPIRE TO EXPRESS ACHIEVEMENT

any community to tell its own living will. The Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial in Washington are the expressions of a nation not of the city of Washington, but this building will be an expression of the spirit of Pittsburgh The building is to be high, but for the power of inspiration and for the sublimity which great heights, together with right proportions, mass, lines ,carvings, friezes and pointed Gothic arches can give. By its architecture and by its purpose the building is to record in an atmosphere of worship the effort of those who made Pittsburgh what it is and to inspire still higher achievement those who are to come .It is for this reason that there will be no tower on the building.

The "Cathedral of Learning" is but one of two ambitious building projects launched by the university The other is the $2,000,000 stadium which will be ready for use next fall. It is being built of steel and concrete and covers a tract of 450 by 600 feet. Its seating capacity will be 65,000.

Work on the new building will start early next year. It will stand on a 14 acre plot facing Schenley Park, in the heart of Pittsburgh's "Billion Dollar Educational Section." It will accommodate 12,000 students and virtually all departments of the university will be housed within its high walls except the colleges of medicine and dentistry which will occupy the present buildings of the university.

Three years were required to draw the plans, which call for Gothic style architecture in white Kentucky limestone. It will be 680 feet high, 360 feet long and 260 feet wide. Four main doorways 39 feet high will provide entrances to the building and 16 high speed elevators will cary students to the class rooms on the upper floors. Charles Z. Klauder of Philadelphia drew the plans.

The cost of construction per cubic foot in a high building is somewhat higher than the corresponding cost in a low building, Chancellor Bowman said, but added that this greater cost "is largely offset by a greater percentage of effective area obtainable in the high building. High construction offers obviously better ventilation ,better light, less noise, less dust. The cost of heat, of upkeep and of janitorial service favors high construction. The completion of the building would require about one and three fourths acres taken near the center of the quadrangle. This would leave more than 12 of the 14 acres for other buildings in the future. If the space needed by the university were created in four story building these buildings would cover the 14 acres. The saving of land by the high construction amounts to about 2,000,000. The cost of operating elevators is largely offset by the saving in the heat, upkeep and janitor service.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Sparks and children of Cleveland, Tenn., and Mrs. T. E. Belt, formerly Miss Wilmer Hutcheson, of Evansville, Indiana will arrive this evening to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Warren.

Praises Work Done By Asheville and Motor Club

that first started the co operation with your motor club and all the other Kiwanis clubs, as they all worked hand in hand to get the road. I am also sending copy of this letter to the motor club president, thanking you all."

J. E. Kittrell, Calloway and Webb, Lexington, writes: "This is to express to you and the people of Western Carolina the appreciation of the effort made through the Asheville Western Carolina Motor club, yourself and the Asheville Chamber of Commerce, in the matter of cooperation with the people of Lexington and central Kentucky to open Dixie Route A Yrom Cincinnati through Western North Carolina to Florida.

This work has been of incalculable benefit and I believed has advanced the opening from three to four years. Lexington is already seeing concrete results from this work in the way of two to three hundred cars a day passing thru our city enroute south. The local travel has been enormously increased.

The highway markers being placed under the supervision of Mr. N. Buckner, manager of the Asheville Motor club, are unusually attractive and will be of real service to the motoring public.

Ziwar Takes Reins In Egypt; Confidence Vote Is Requested

the new Egyptian government will yield on the remaining points of the British demands. The fact that Zirwar was selected to form the administration appears to meet with full approval in diplomatic circles in London.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov 25 (AP)—A new government, headed by Zirwar Pasha, president of the senate, has taken control in Egypt, Zaglool Pasha, having complied with the British demands as far as he deemed expedient—an apology, the payment of indemnity, and the promise to punish the assassins of Sir Lee Stack, sirdar of the Egyptian army —withdrew from the premiership, and his resignation was immediately accepted by King Fuad.

Zirwan Pasha also takes the office of foreign affairs until it is known whether Ahmed Zulficar Pasha, minister at Rome, to whom the portfolio has been offered, will accept.

Ovation Given Zaglool

On the assembling of the chamber this evening the former premier, Zaglool Pasha, received an ovation. He announced that he had tendered his resignation on receipt of Viscount Allenby's note on November 22, but the king asked him to reconsider his decision. When he was notified by the British he informed the king that he would do everything for him except remain in power. His ministery, he said, had endeavored to deal with the critical situation arising from the deplorable crime, but Egypt would probably be exposed to dangers which could be avoided by the cabinet's resignation.

Zaglool exhorted the nation to preserve the utmost calm in these anxious times and promised to support the new government.

Zaglool, accused him of weakness

Opposition speakers attacked and failure to protect the country's dignity against Great Britain's onslaught.
